

Si Bheag Si Mhor is a beautiful old Irish air, usually played simply and leisurely, and occasionally played as a waltz. The tune is attributed to the blind harpist and singer Turlough Carolan (1670-1738), who is considered by many to be one of Ireland's most important composers. The Gaelic title of this tune literally means "So Big, So Little," and seems to have some relationship to legends about the hills that were home to mythical fairies. The melody invites ornamentation, simple harmonies and accompanying drones.
